I used to be a sound engineer and I can tell you those voices of the adult female are near and she's in a room no bigger than 9 x 12ft modern ceiling height, the female young girl sounds around 7yrs old and reverb wise sounds like she's in a separate room adjacent to the adult female. The motorcycle and siren noises etc are recordings being played, they do not share the same reverb room dynamics. The recordings are very consistent and share identical room dynamics in every recording.

No ghosts here, this is people being held against their will.

Contact local archeologists who can survey the ground for cavities and ground disturbance, seek sewer and pipe work plans that may travel beneath the house. There is a recording where the adult female is knocking on a pipe consistently in a paced but not Morse manner.

Where is the location of the house please? I want to help.

Best Regards, Simon Bolton
